

Reading tips

- Choose a good time to read, when you and the child are relaxed.
- Make reading a positive experience and reward any engagement with positive feedback.
- It's better to build confidence with positive encouragement than them getting every word correct.
- When you read, use your finger to point and track the text from left to right underneath the words.
- Include reading into part of your child's daily routine.

The key thing is to make reading an enjoyable experience.
